A walk between Blourdes

Welcome to Persac at the start of the trail, on the plateau which separates the valleys of the Grande and Petite Blourde, for a moment of relaxation and discovery of the beauty of its landscapes.

On the route of the "Fosse aux Loups n°5", the shaded path leads you in a rich and diverse natural environment, partly devoted to hunting and marked by crops and livestock.

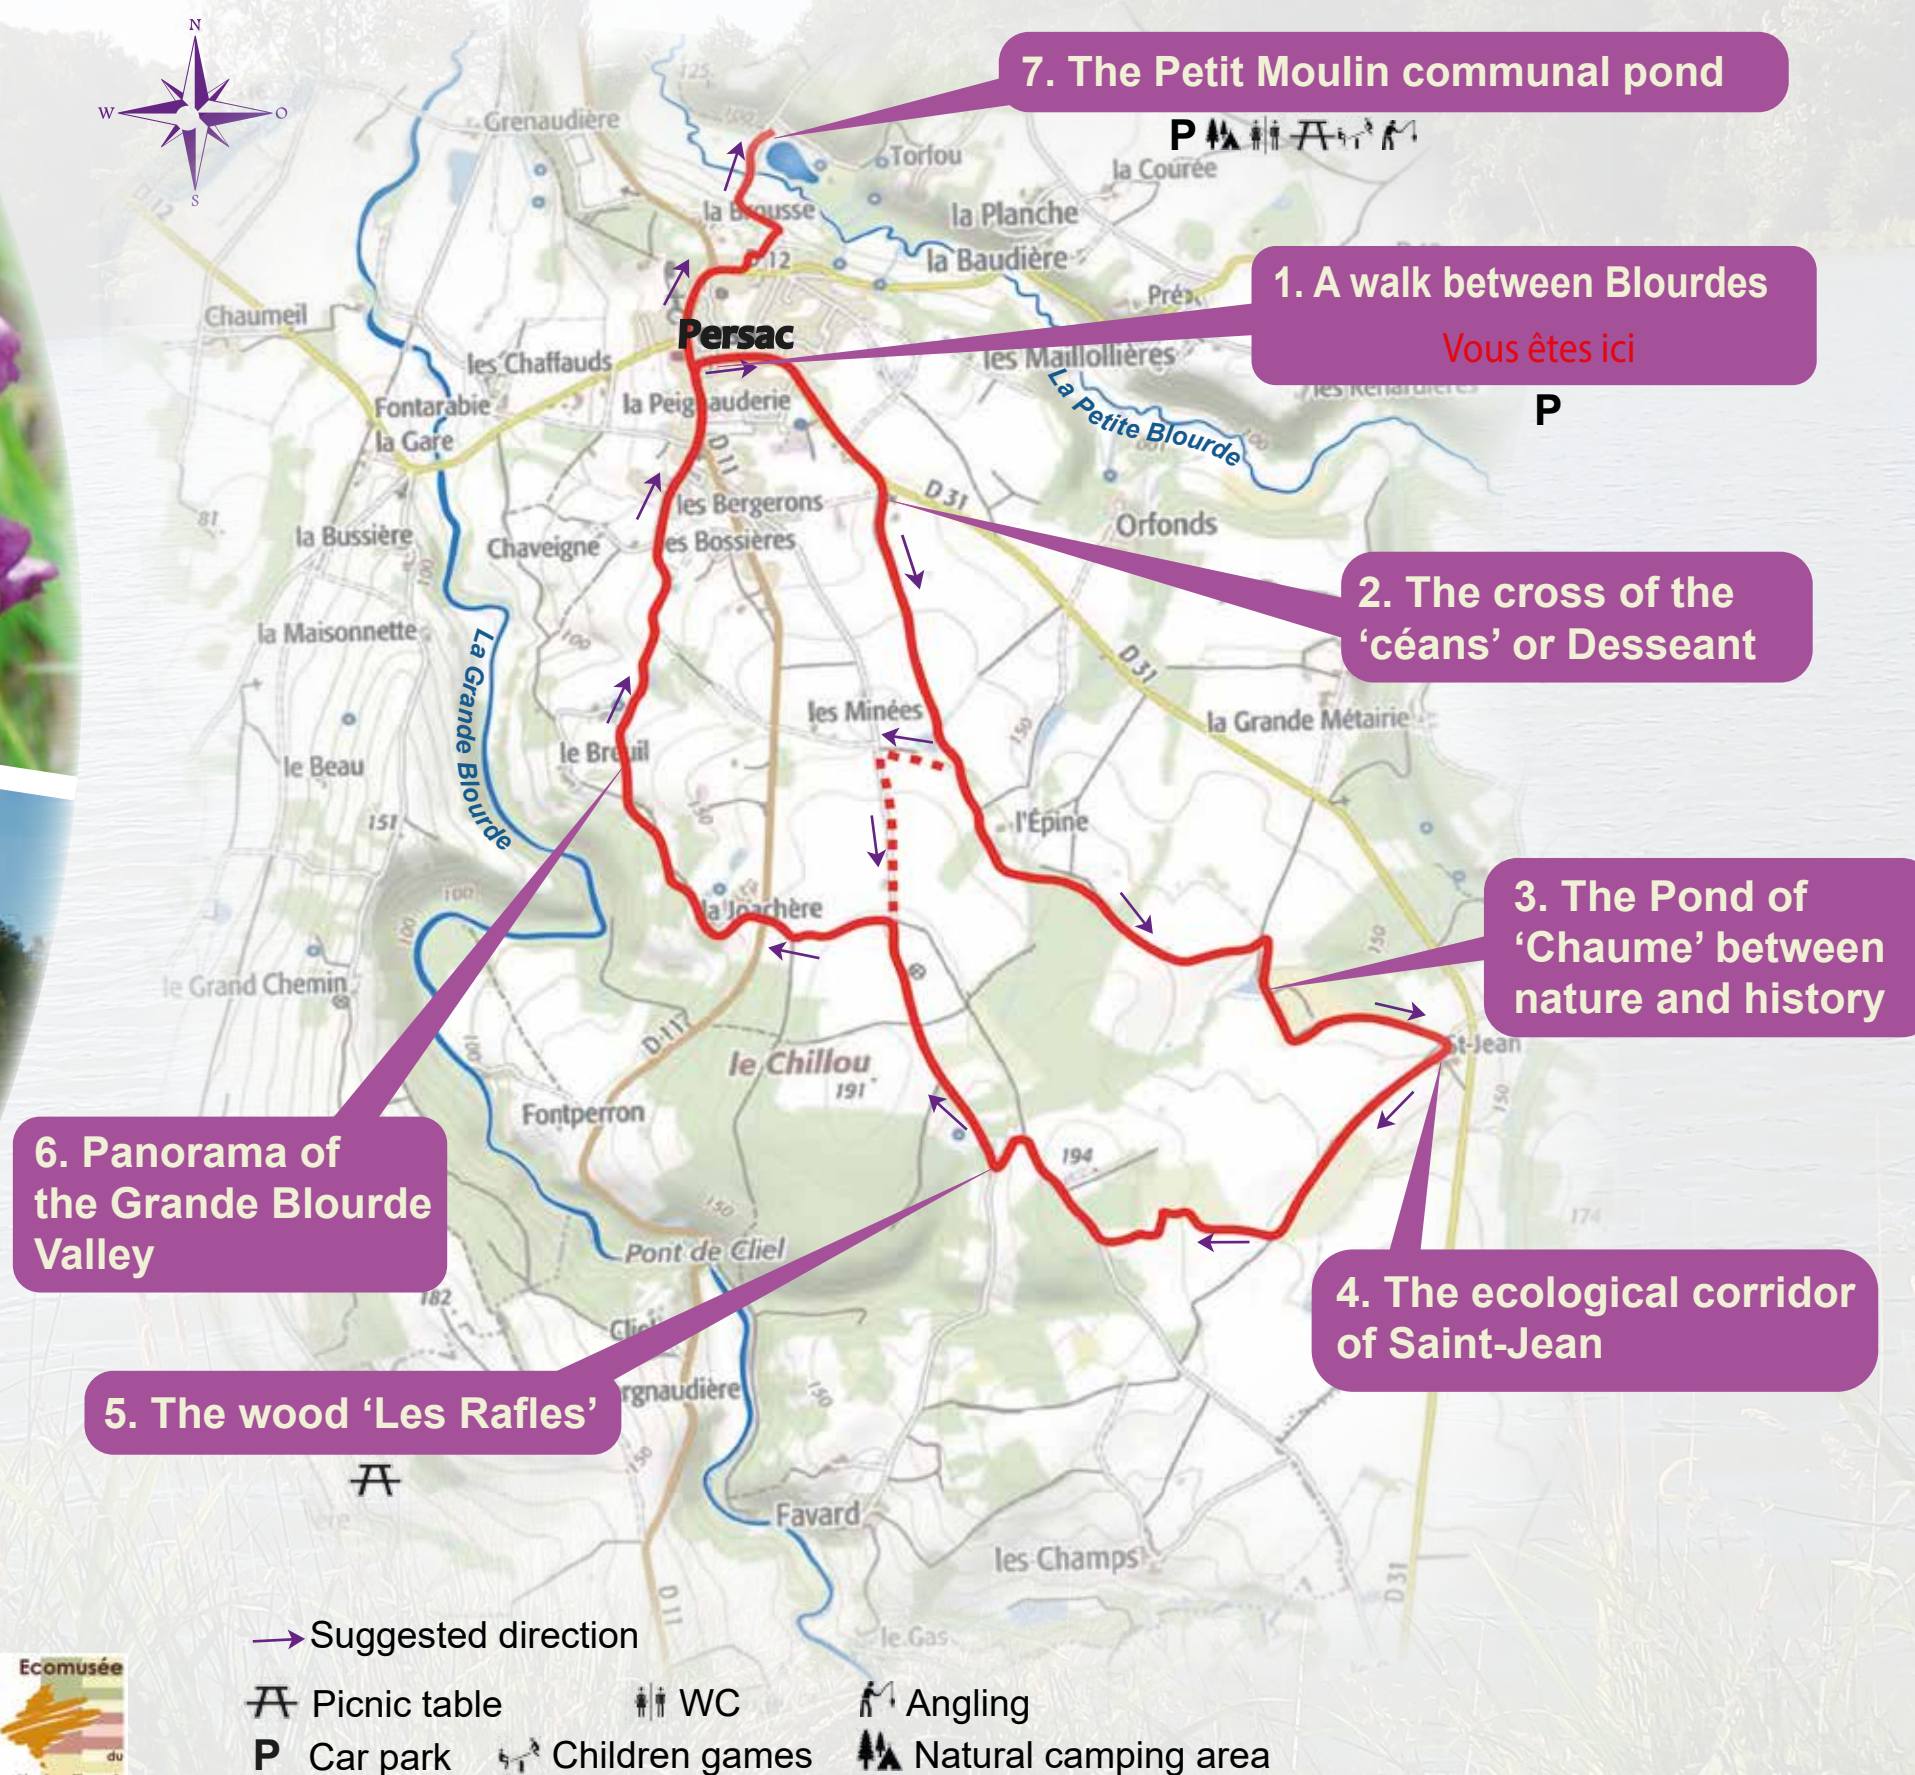

It is an exceptional opportunity for you to observe the traces of prey, to discover rare plants and to observe the testimonies of the old rural society, with its uses and traditions.

Circuit of 10 km without particular difficulty, some muddy areas in rainy season.

Regulations and recommendations :

- Bring beverages (no purchase possible on the course), duration 2h30 to 3h
- Children overseen by supervisors, especially at the pond
- Prohibited fires
- Please respect, fauna, flora and the equipment
- Dogs on leash to cross a hunting zone (municipal decree)
- Walking shoes, hiking shoes recommended during rainy season.

Persac is a town committed to the protection of its natural heritage, but you can discover other pedestrian routes, monuments, castles, including the castle of la Brûlonnière (private area), where remain the memory of the Viscount de la Besge, as a great hunter of wolves and creator of a breed of dogs for this hunt, 'the Bastards of Haut-Poitou'.
